

Putting your organisation back into control of your information

According to Gartner, formalising information security management provides the foundation for measurable continuous improvement in security processes and activities.*

SUMMARY OF KEY FACTS

Solution

Information Security (ISO 27001) Management Assessment.

Key deliverables

- ISO 27001 Starter Pack
- Gap analysis, with clear and concise recommendations
- Hands-on assistance including development of policies and procedures, authoring and risk assessment.

Benefits

On implementation of the assessment recommendations:

- Your organisation can demonstrate secure handling of information
- You can achieve ISO/IEC 27001 compliance
- Your organisation can maximise its use of its information assets.

Client Challenge

Your organisation generates, acquires, handles, publishes and disposes of a large volume of information every day. You are required to preserve the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information because it supports your business objectives; it is sensitive; or because you must comply with legislative, regulatory or industry standards. To meet this challenge, an Information Security Management System (ISMS) can assist in securing this information overload. According to Gartner, organisations use ISO/IEC 27001 for different reasons. Some apply it informally to establish an information security management system, while others use it as the basis for an internal ISMS audit, or to obtain a certificate that demonstrates compliance to external partners.

Fujitsu's Solution

Fujitsu's Information Security Management Assessment methodology is based on the ISO/IEC 27001 standard and can assist your organisation in implementing the prescribed set of security best-practices. Fujitsu will help your organisation achieve its ICT security objectives, with services and tools that are tailored to all stages of the implementation and management of the security system. These include but are not limited to an ISO 27001 Starter Pack, gap analysis, risk assessment and policy development.

Benefits

With Fujitsu's assistance in implementing or improving your ISMS, your business objectives and assets are protected and your organisation meets industry compliance requirements. The assessment can maximise the use of your organisation's assets, as it identifies what valuable information is held by your organisation and where and how it can be legally used.

Our Approach

With your assistance, the assessment delivers in 4 – 6 weeks elapsed (effort may be less), an evaluation of your information security management systems and a set of pragmatic recommendations based on your requirements and context. You will get clarity on what needs to be done, what is involved and recommendations on how to begin.
