Let Fujitsu help you meet this challenge with our Network Security Solutions, designed to support all facets of retail network security. Our security specialists work with you to define comprehensive security policies and guidelines that focus on both business risk and compliance requirements. These services help you implement the right “portfolio” of security solutions to meet your business needs.

Security Consulting and Compliance Services

Fujitsu's experienced security consultants help you assess your information security risk and implement smart, cost-effective security programs and solutions. We partner with other industry-leading solution providers to offer a wide range of options to meet your security needs, from planning through design, implementation, and ongoing monitoring and management.

Network Security Risk Assessment. Each Fujitsu security project begins with a thorough assessment of your network's vulnerabilities, both internal and external. We determine the ability of your existing environment to lock out threats, and recommend and implement changes that may help remediate identified vulnerabilities and ensure compliancy. This allows us to address the areas of greatest risk to your organization and customers, while meeting applicable regulations and audit requirements.

Policies, Guidelines and Implementation. Security regulations and mandates such as PCI, HIPAA and Sarbanes Oxley emphasize the development of information security processes and controls. Fujitsu security specialists work with you to define comprehensive security policies and guidelines based on vulnerability assessment and business impact analysis. In addition, our specialists create a training profile to ensure proper ongoing maintenance of solutions and processes.

Security Infrastructure Solutions. Fujitsu works closely with you to implement high-impact, cost effective security solutions, including:
