

Wireless Networking Solutions

Flexibility and cost savings

In the competitive retail arena, you're constantly looking for ways to stay ahead of the curve. Few initiatives can directly impact your business the way wireless technology can.

With Fujitsu's Wireless Networking Solutions, you'll enjoy lowered costs, greater flexibility and increased customer satisfaction. You're assured customized security solutions that exceed the highest standards. And, we help you maintain control of your wireless network through ongoing monitoring and maintenance.

The wireless advantage

Fujitsu's Wireless Networking Solutions offer tremendous benefits for retailers:

Cost savings. Eliminate hard-wiring costs for new stores and re-wiring costs for existing locations.

Flexibility. Move existing POS systems or add new systems with ease for seasonal promotions or store reconfigurations.

Better inventory control. Improve inventory control with wireless handheld inventory management tools.

Remote communications. Offer wireless voice and data access for managers of multiple locations on the move.

Customer satisfaction. Improve customer service through wireless order taking, line busting or selfservice kiosks.

Security first

When you partner with Fujitsu, you receive the assurance that security of your wireless network is of utmost importance. We provide a customized security solution, based on your unique needs, that exceeds most security standards. Our solution includes a thorough site survey to ensure high security and adequate coverage, and predictive analysis tools that help plan deployment layouts and eliminate drop-outs and dead-zones.

We rely on strong authentication and encryption with the use of 802.1x and PEAP authentication, and stronger encryption in the form of TKIP or even AES or WPA or 802.11i compliance.

Ongoing support

Fujitsu helps you keep control of your wireless network through our ongoing maintenance and monitoring services. Engineers dedicated to your account support your wireless network, so you get assistance from the same professionals who designed and implemented your system.

You'll receive remote monitoring that ensures ongoing system management from a centralized Network Operation Center (NOC). Automated periodic vulnerability scans can be scheduled as often as needed to ensure ongoing security compliance.

The Fujitsu difference

By choosing Fujitsu for your wireless networking needs, you receive a customized approach to security, offering you peace of mind that your wireless network is held to the highest standards of security.

In addition, you get nationwide on-site field support, as well as a commitment to relentless cost reduction. Moreover, our expertise in the retail market allows us to bring industry-specific knowledge to your wireless networking solution.
