

Modern Workspace Teams

Digital Workplace Services

Conversations drives collaboration, yet without the right communication tools, your conversations misses the point. Using Microsoft Teams Fujitsu helps our customers share content, collaborate and connect under a single platform. Our expertise can support your organisation to become a highly mobile workforce through a range of complementary services and options within Teams to drive productivity and innovation. With Fujitsu's Modern Workspace and Microsoft Teams, your workplace is reimaged

Fujitsu and Microsoft Teams

With too many emails, too many versions of the same document, too many document repositories, your employees have too much to get frustrated about. Without a consistent collaboration tool, work gets difficult - topics are overlooked, action items go unrecorded, and new work can lack the structure and clear direction needed of productive teams.

With Fujitsu's Office 365 Productivity Services with Microsoft Teams, employees share content, collaborate, receive or make calls, schedule events and use workflow services all on a single chat-based collaboration tool - intuitive to the creative processes and diverse working styles of your teams.

While adopting a collaboration tool may seem simple, creating collaboration spaces that allow your staff to be productive requires control. Data governance, integration and user adoption all go towards a successful implementation of Teams. Designed to complement the needs of your business, Fujitsu supports your move to Teams - from consulting and migration services and implementing data governance, to selecting the right features for your employees, we make sure you get the best out of your Teams investment

Key Features

Collaboration

Fujitsu's Microsoft Teams is a fully managed service including support for data governance, knowledge management, information architecture, provisioning to lifecycle management of your collaboration toolset. With the option of Valo as an integrated intranet, Fujitsu provides all the options you need.

Voice (Business Calling with Microsoft Teams)

To drive the next level of collaboration, include enterprise voice services. With options for integrating meeting room technologies, the service covers Direct Call Routing, Teams Rooms, Conferencing, Live Events along with upcoming upgrades such as the whiteboard feature and live captioning, this can make a real difference to your organisations ability to connect.

Application Integration + Power Platform

Built to derive the insights you need to run your business, Fujitsu delivers solutions on Microsoft's Power along with integration of your business applications platform into Microsoft Teams. Make Teams the place for your collaboration.

shaping tomorrow with you

Business Calling for Microsoft Teams

Unify all your communications into a single platform with Business Calling for Teams. The service enables you to integrate all of your organizations calling and video collaboration into one platform. Allow your users to transition simpler calling direct from Teams. With the ability to integrate third party voice applications including existing PBX systems as well as coexisting with call centre agents, this provides greater calling service flexibility that is only allowed in Teams.

To make the most of your investment, Fujitsu offers a fully managed solution, by providing a single point of contact for all issues, escalation management, customer consultations, delivery and operations to make it a truly comprehensive collaboration solution

Managing your Teams Environment with SharePoint

While Teams provides a rich set of tools to implement any governance capabilities your organization might require, it does need governance itself. At first, it may seem great to allow everyone to provision their own Office 365 Teams and Channels, but that can create a management headache, creating a clutter that will demand hours to sort through.

Fujitsu supports your Microsoft Teams integration by managing your data governance, knowledge management, and provisioning lifecycle management. With extensive experience in SharePoint integration, our expertise brings together the collaborative toolset of Microsoft Teams, the functionality of the Office 365 services with SharePoint development. Let us streamline your workflows, remove the clutter and make work faster with customised workplace designs that suits the workstyles of your teams, internally and externally, and the needs of your business.
