Niigata Plant

- Conducted industry-academia collaboration training with Sanjo City University (September – November 2022)

We have concluded an agreement on industry-academia collaboration with Sanjo City University (Sanjo City, Niigata Prefecture). As part of this agreement, we accepted students from the university for industry-academia collaboration training at our Niigata Plant.

The purpose of this internship is for students to go to the workplace of a company in the Tsubame Sanjo area and learn practical engineering knowledge, technology and ethics by combining hands-on and experience-based learning in the company with the learning of theory in the university.

At our Niigata Plant, participants experienced plant quality assurance activities, lectures on product internal structures and manufacturing processes, and verification work using actual products.
