the future
of business?

Transform with
SAP S/4HANA and Fujitsu

FUJITSU

shaping tomorrow with you

The possibilities are endless. Technology is transforming the modern business. But, all too often, we're reluctant to embrace this enormous potential. Why?

Perhaps it's too expensive – in time or money? Perhaps you're waiting for the product to mature? Perhaps it's simply not a priority? Or maybe, like many others, it's hard to build a solid business case for investing?

But to thrive in today's marketplace, agility is king. A business model that isn't adaptable can't cope with shifting demands and new innovations. To be completely agile you need to move fast and deliver change. It's a must for staying competitive. And essential for getting ahead of the competition and attracting top talent.

It's not something to be put off until the last minute.
It's an opportunity, to take your business to the next level.

Enter SAP S/4HANA

Transform your business with SAP's latest intelligent ERP solution: S/4HANA.

Access your data wherever you may be. Gain insights with AI, machine learning and predictive analytics. And know that it's all secure and compliant with industry and government regulations. With SAP S/4HANA, you can make more informed decisions, faster. What's not to like?

Well, what about that old ERP system that you've spent years fine-tuning? The systems that everyone knows inside out? Or the risks inherent in any step into something new? Can your business afford the time, costs and effort involved in such modernization?

With Fujitsu you can

We have the experience and qualifications to lead you through the whole process. Don't fear change. Let's co-create your next evolution and seize the opportunities this technology brings.

Come with us.

What can S/4HANA do for me?

You've heard all about SAP's intelligent ERP system. It's more than just an upgrade – it's a business transformation. Built to power the modern enterprise, it unifies a whole range of existing systems.

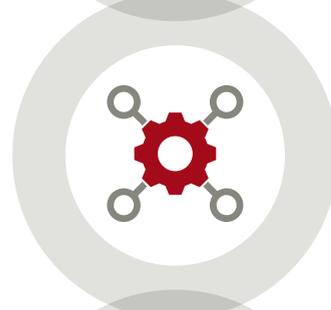

Finance, accounting, and controlling.
Procurement, sales, and manufacturing.
Plant maintenance, project system, and product lifecycle management. All in one place. All talking to one another.

But what does that mean for your business?

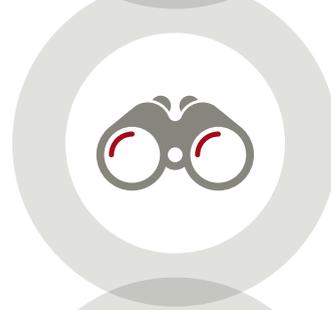

Predict and act in real time

With all the information to hand, you know exactly what you have and where it is. So, you can do things like report availability, streamline supply chains, and predict delivery performance – all in real time. Then use intelligent systems to keep everything moving, and there when you need it.

Automate processes and simplify decisions

Let the machines get on with the routine, mechanical tasks. Your people are then free to make the real decisions. Decisions made easier by having all the information they need pulled together from every corner of the business.

Gain visibility into business performance

Make the most of every business asset, with a view of your whole organization. Simplify operations and maintenance, control risks and ensure safety. With an overview of every system, you'll discover insights into your business and take performance to a new level.

Reduce TCO

Configure your setup to suit your business. Don't waste time and money on systems you don't need. Reduce overheads by consolidating maintenance plans, task lists and catalogues. And choose a billing option that works for you.

Transform your business with confidence

Wherever you are on your transformation journey, Fujitsu will help you grow your business. We have the capability, insight and experience to help you achieve your strategic goals.

We work with you to create a clear roadmap of where you want to go. A map that underpins your unique vision. It shows precisely how SAP's technology will add value to your organization and covers all the vital elements of your digital transformation.

Let's co-create your new S/4HANA solution through six structured steps:

- 1 Discover
Understand the journey, the reasons and what you hope to achieve. Plan your evolution across business and technology.
- 2 Prepare
Apply these conclusions to production. Enhancing user experience, and safely protected with full service and support.
- 3 Explore
Pilot new solutions, quickly. So, you can explore opportunities and prove their viability and value.
- 4 Realize
Install and customize based on an agile approach. Ensure regular feedback and validation by the business.
- 5 Deploy
Go live. Onboard business operations and make sure everything is running effectively.
- 6 Run
Monitor and adapt your investment. Ensure it's driven by user needs, market changes and technology developments.
